ABSTRACT

S.N. 09/367829

In a radio communication system including portable radio terminals for communication with base stations in communication areas, conditions for starting handover are changed according to the history of handover to reduce the frequency of handover operations and to improve speech quality.

10

5